PROFILE

Experienced design professional excelling in building delightful user experiences for a broad audience. With particular skills within complex interaction design and a with natural eye for visual aesthetics; I continually build on my competencies within leadership, design systems, evaluation, feedback and more. I am currently expanding my competencies within strategic leadership and people management, by taking on a roles as Design Manager.

In a world of complexity, I value, admire and relentlessly push for simplicity in design and beyond. That is my guiding principle.
